БЛОК 2 «ЧТЕНИЕ И ЛОГИЧЕСКОЕ МЫШЛЕНИЕ»

41-45. Прочитайте текст «PEDIATRICIANS OFFICIALLY WANT HIGH SCHOOLS TO START LATER!» и выберите наиболее подходящий ответ на вопрос.

On Monday, the American Academy of Pediatrics published a document recommending middle and high schools to delay the start of class until after 8:30 a.m. About 40 percent of high schools in the country start earlier than 8 a.m., a phenomenon that has negative effects on teens' safety, well-being and education, according to Dr. Judith Owens, the director of sleep medicine at Children's National Medical Center in Washington D.C.

Adolescents are currently seriously sleep-deprived, with 87 percent of high school students getting less than recommended 8.5 to 9.5 hours per night. There are several reasons for this. For biological reasons, it can be difficult for teens to fall asleep before 11 p.m. Beyond that, lifestyle factors such as homework and hobbies also keep adolescents awake. "We really feel that this is such a serious health problem that it really is in the best interest of students for schools to take this step," said Owens, the report's lead author. The nation's top education official, Education Secretary, Arne Duncan, agrees with Owens' assessment.

Research shows that sleep deprivation negatively affects students' grades. A 2012 study found that middle school students who started class an hour later than usual saw their test scores increased. "The effects of starting school one hour later are similar to the increasing grades we see when kids' parents have master's or PhD's"

Sleep-deprived teens also have higher self-reported rates of depression, higher rates of obesity and lower rates of school attendance. "There's lots of research and common sense that lots of teens struggle to get up ... to get on the bus," Duncan said last year in a broadcast interview. Owens added that "When you delay school start times, all these factors improve: less self-reported depression, better grades, better test scores, better attendance".

41. What is the genre of the text below?

- 1) a statistic report
- 2) newspaper article
- 3) an argumentative essay
- 4) a medical report

42. In the line 9 the word "THIS" refers to:

- 1) the lack of sleep
- 2) oversleeping
- 3) the difficulty in getting up
- 4) the difficulty in falling asleep

43. The word combination "sleep deprivation" in the line 14 is synonymous with:

- 1) having difficulty to get up
- 2) not having enough sleep
- 3) waking up several times
- 4) having too much sleep

44. What does Finley Edwards imply by saying "The effects of starting school one hour later are similar to the increasing grades we see when kids' parents have Master's or PhD's" (line 16)?

- 1) Starting school one hour later and having educated parents are interrelated.
- 2) Those kids whose parents are more educated are better learners at school.
- 3) Those kids whose parents are Directors are better learners at school.
- 4) If kids start classes one hour later, their grades will be higher.

45. Pupils who are seriously sleep-deprived (in comparison to those who are not):

- 1) are overweight
- 2) look better
- 3) attend classes more often
- 4) often have parents with PHD's

The human voice: It's the instrument we all play. It's the most powerful sound in the world, probably. It's the only one that can start a war or say "I love you." And yet many people have the experience that when they speak, people don't listen to them. And why is that? How can we speak powerfully to make change in the world?

What I'd like to suggest, there are a number of habits that we need to move away from. I've assembled for your pleasure here five deadly sins of speaking. I think, these five are pretty large habits that we can all fall into.

First, (51) _____. It is not a nice habit to talk about other people's private lives often including remarks that are untrue.

Next, (52) _____. My mother, in the last years of her life, became very, very pessimistic in her speech, and it's hard to listen. I remember one day, I said to her, "It's October 1 today," and she said, "I know, isn't it dreadful?" It's hard to listen when somebody's always like that. Another form of it is (53) _____. Well, this is the national art of the U.K. We are always dissatisfied with the weather, sport, politics, just everything, but actually this particular sin of speaking is not spreading sunshine and lightness in the world.

One more sin is (54) _____. It sometimes even demeans our language. For example, if you have seen or heard something that really is awesome, how would you describe it? Will you add some things to make it more exciting? When the story "travels" from one person to another, it often becomes lying and we don't want to listen to people we know are lying to us.

And finally, (55) _____. When facts and opinions get conflated, you're listening into the wind. You know, somebody is bombarding you with their opinions as if they were true. It's difficult to listen to that.

So here they are, five deadly sins of speaking. These are things I believe we need to avoid in order to be called good speakers.
